OLD STEAMBOAT DUMPS MDIAN

Albert Jim Stays on Until Famous Outlaw Decides to Throw Him.

57 VARIETIES OF BUCKING

FINALS AT WILD WEST SHOW SCHEDULED FOR TODAY.

Another great crowd, although not quite so large as that of Wednesday, greeted J. C. Leary's Wild West aggregation at the fair grounds yesterday and had some rare spectacles. Through a variety of circumstances, the earlier numbers dragged a bit and the real excitement did not come until toward the end, but the last number, the wild horse race, was worth the money all by itself.

The new sent promised by the manager.

Number of visits to patrons

Estimated value of school property.

Assessed valuation of city taxable property city tax for school purposes (mills per dollar).

Cost of superintendence of instruction cost of books and school supplies.

The new seats promised by the manage-ment were ready and the handling of the crowd and policing of the grounds were good.

The day was almost historic, because alm Albert Jim, one of the Indians, almost rode old Steamboat without "pulling leather." Albert gave the veteran a good whirl of it at that and stayed with it mostly from the start until he had go away behind the corrai, when he was forced to bite the dust.

The bucking feature was made prominent, nine set numbers of it being given in addition to the wild horse race and an unofficial stunt contributed by the Indians. Albert Jim was the only man to be thrown. Alex. Lorinson rode Beaver, Kid Biscuit rode Young Steamboat and an unknown outlaw. Sam Scoville, rode Kid Biscult rode Young Steamboat and an unknown outlaw, Sam Scoville, rode Arapahoe Kid and Red Bird. Jim Mackle made a good ride on Rare Vintage, Hugh Clark rode Sanator Warren and War Paint and Clayton Danks rode Hightower.

Incidentally one of the Indians came tearing across the lot on a horse that was bucking some and finally dumped the Indian. One of the Indian's feet was caught in the stirrup, but the Indian, with rare dexterity and presence of mind, grasped the bridle and prevented his being dragged until others closed in and helped him to get loose. Jim Mackle then piled on the horse and rode it to a standstill.

As is evidenced by a complaint for separate maintenance filed by her yesterday against Reddick R. Moore. They were married at El Paso, Tex., Jan. 21, 1902. Recently, according to the complaint, Moore has become so provident that he has neglected to contribute to the support of his wife, so she asks the court to award her $100 per month, that she may continue to occupy the station in life to which she is accustomed.

Mrs. Moore alleges that her spouse is chief assistant superintendent of the Kid Biscult rode a bucking mule from Montana without difficulty early in the afternoon and came to griaf later on one of the steers. The rope on the steer slipped and the Kid stubbed his toe and fell about that time. After the rope had been adjusted the Kid got on the steer and rode it. Sam Scoville also did a bit of steer riding.

Finals This Afternoon.

Finals This Afternoon.

Finals in all the competitive events will be run this afternoon. The men to take part in the bucking contest finals will be Hugh Clark, Clayton Danks, Sam Scoville, Birnie St. Clair. Art Acord, Ed McConnell and Harry Brennan.

A new feature today will be a bear roping contest. The bears were brought on the field yesterday afternoon and it was expected that the bear roping would take place then, but Mr. Leary decided that as the bears had just got to town and had not a chance to rest after their journey; it would be better to put the event off until today to be sure that the bears were in good health and spirits.

The wild horse race had about a dozen entries and the handling of the horses preliminary to getting the halters and saddles on them drew the usual sympathetic expressions from the ladies and, indeed, from some of the men who have never had anything to do with the great American cayuse in his wild state.

Stub Farlow won the race with Lee Robbins second. Sam Scoville third and Jim Mackie fourth. Ed McConnell got the prize for having the worst bucker.

Jim Mackie got the start of the race and was making good headway when his sallant steed went wrong just around the first turn. After a few crow hops around the first turn. After a few crow hops around the track, the cayuse fell down with Jim gallant steed went wrong just around the first turn. After a few crow hops around the track, the cayuse fell down with Jim underneath and by the time Jim got out from under and got his saddle back on the cayuse, three men had passed him and were too far along to be overtaken.

Horses Are Bad Actors.

Several of the riders never got around at all. Indeed, two of them never got a hundred yards from the starting place. The horses were falling, bucking and rolling all over the track for a while and it was shore great sport." Kid Biscuit was bowling along at about eight knots over on the back stretch when his cayuse decided to make a short cut of it for home and blundered through the rail, falling all over the scenery and the Kid. It required much persuasion by the diminutive rider to get the animal on its feet again. Horses threw themselves with several of the riders, but no harm was done, as the horses were small, the ground soft and

Martin third. All the riders were Indians.

Joelle Irwin, 12 years old and daughter of Manager C. B. Irwin, won the ladies' half-mile, with Lillie Nicholson second and Irma Rainey third. Miss Rainey is an attractive young Indian girl, a sisterin'inaw of Frank Randall, manager of the Indians. She is the girl who took the part of Pocahontas in "The Modern Pocahontas" on the Orpheum circuit last year and is a vocalist of talent and ability, having received a good English education.

Ladies' Relay Race.

In the ladies' relay race, Mrs. Danks won the first heat, with Miss Nicholson second and Mrs. Sparks third. Miss Nicholson finished first in the second heat, but was set back to third place because on the track, and the heat went to Mrs. Danks, Miss Nicholson won the third heat easily, with Mrs. Danks second and Mrs. Sparks third. Mrs. Sparks' horses did not work at all well for her and prevented her making a botter showing.

Two teams, the "sheepherders" and the "cowpunchers," created much merriment in a potato race, which was won by the committee the state of the funeral. Quite a number of Rexburg people went over to Hibbard to attend the funeral. J. R. Young of Rexburg was the officiating mortician.

a potato race, which was won by the owpunchers, 13 to 12. Buffalo Vernon and Hugh Clark did not get off right on their roping exhibition, having been fed too well in Salt Lake, according to the other beys, but after they got warmed up a little they did better. Vernon had another good try with his steer and got it down without great difficulty. Goldie St. Clair rode Red Dander again burs-in excellent manner.

Bad Day for Ropers.

The steer ropers had a bad day, with a | G. A. R. program. The steer ropers had a bad day, with a bunch of accidents. Senor Valdez had about the worst time of anybody. He got hold of a husky steer that refused persistently to stay put. It jumped over into the race track and did a pretty fair quarter in the wrong direction in spite of all the senor and his horse could do to prevent it. He flopped the critter repeatedly, but could not get it down to stay down until long after everybody had forgotten about him. Then somebody discovered the senor away back in the passon of reaching St. Cloud, prospects of covered the senor away back in the pasture with the steer down and in the act of rescuing forty feet of good hard twist rope that the steer had been dragging around. Nobody made good enough time to count in the steer roping.

14,748 DRAWING PERFUNCTORY AFTER NAME WAS ANNOUNCED.

743 Coeur d'Alene, Ida., Aug. 12.—Two 9,934 thousand names were drawn today for the Flathead Indian reservation, and Joseph Furay of Warsaw, Ind., was the winner of the lucky number one. A crowd of about 500 people assembled to hear the names of the winners this morning, and throughout the day there was about the same number around the drawing stand, many coming and going. The weather was cool and the sky overcast at the beginning, but it soon be came extremely hot.

Judge Witten, superintendent of the pening, made a brief address at the utset explanatory of the method to be oursued in the drawing of names, his peech being virtually the same as that at the opening of the Coeur d'Alene drawing on Monday. The 81,363 applications, each in a buff envelope, had been dumped upon the platform, and J. G. Witten announced that 2,000 would
